WHITE WINE

2007/8 Alpha Zeta Garganega, Veneto, Italy £18.50
Soft, smooth and quaffable with delicate ripe fruit, a touch of spice and even a hint of honeysuckle. Something new and a little different from Italy

2008 Sauvignon Blanc, Domaine de Ribaute, Languedoc, France £20.00
A very pleasant and drinkable sauvignon from the sunny south of France

2008 Chardonnay Benchmark, Grant Burge, Southern Australia £23.50
A new world chardonnay that is really true to the flavour of the grape without being over powered by too much oak as can often be the case

2007 Rio de Los Pajaros, Torrontes, Uruguay £25.00
Bitingly fresh, this pale golden wine is one for the connoisseur of the dry white. A complex character whose bone dryness is fabulously balanced by notes of opulent honey and spice

2008 Chenin Blanc, Mulderbosch, Stellenbosch, South Africa £26.50
From the best region in South Africa this is a lovely wine and offers a great alternative to the better known Chardonnay grape

2008 Montes Sauvignon Blanc, Curico Valley, Chile £28.50
"Another great wine from Montes. Crisp, fresh, clean fruit, with depth and zest. Aurelio Montes takes the best grapes from his vineyard sites then follows through with exemplary winemaking to produce this excellent example of Sauvignon Blanc. No wonder Aurelio is in such demand as a consultant for other wine makers."

2008 Pinot Grigio delle Venezie, Riff, Terra Alpina, Italy £29.00
One of the best examples of this ever popular wine from the north of Italy, it is rare to find a Pinot Grigio of this quality

2008/9 Hunter's Sauvignon Blanc, Marlborough, New Zealand £32.50
A fantastic and typical example of a high quality Sauvignon Blanc from New Zealand's finest wine making region. Full of grassy, gooseberry and citrus flavours this wine will not disappoint

2005	Kendall Jackson Chardonnay, California, USA "Tropical flavours such as mango and pineapple dance with aromas of peach, apple and pear. Richly layered and balanced throughout. Lightly buttered toast headlines the indulgent, lingering finish."	£35.00
2008	Chablis, Jean Marc Brocard, Burgundy, France This wine needs no introduction being one of the most popular wines from France. This particular wine is a classic young Chablis offering some complexity but light enough to please all	£36.00
2004	Casa Lapostolle Cuvee Alexandre Chardonnay, Casablanca Valley, Chile Casa Lapostolle make some of the finest wines in South America. This Chardonnay is rich and ripe. Full and buttery with nice oak 'seasoning' though not too much - just right	£38.00
2007/8	Albarino O Rosal Terras Gauda, Galicia, Spain Albarino wines from this corner of north-west Spain are fast becoming the darling of the wine critic-writer and vineously well-informed. Lively, distinctively perfumed and very dry, an accomplished and unusual glass	£40.00
2007	Sancerre, Henri Bourgeois, Loire Valley, France Bourgeois is arguably the leading producer of Sancerre at the moment. This is the perfect example of a premium old world Sauvignon Blanc. A clean and crisp wine full of lovely fruit	£46.00
2007	Gewurztraminer Reserve Personelle, Domaine Weinbach, Alsace, France Gewurztraminer is the world's easiest to identify grape variety with its perfumed nose and spicy palate it would be impossible to mistake for anything else. A perfect example of this curious and highly aromatic grape	£49.00
2006	Jose Pariente Varietal Verdejo, Rueda, Spain Jose Pariente is at the forefront of modern Spanish white winemaking and is also one of the most exciting estates in northern Spain The Verdejo grape has been established in Rueda for over 500 years - with the best winemakers extracting soft, nutty characteristics and hints of honey	£55.00

2007	Montagny 1er Cru "Le Vieux Chateau", Jean Marc Boillot, Burgundy, France A premiere cru burgundy that offers fantastic value when compared to the likes of Puligny-Montrachet though easily comparable in nature and quality	£62.50
2005	Condrieu La Chambee, Les Vins de Vienne, Rhone Valley, France Condrieu is one of the most exciting wines of France but the Viognier grape is difficult to grow - the vineyards of this village cling to the steep slopes of the valley. The resulting wine is one with a heady perfume of peaches and apricots, blossom and almonds. A real treat!	£70.00
2005	Catena Alta Chardonnay, Mendoza, Argentina This may be South America's finest Chardonnay. It is incredibly ripe and concentrated with great buttery depth overlaid with smart new French oak. Despite all the ripeness and oak the acidity is so well handled that the wine is balanced and fine. Expensive but worth it	£75.00
2004	Cullen Chardonnay, Margaret River, Australia Vanya Cullen makes stunning wines and this 2004 vintage is a perfect example of this. This wine is almost European in style and weight with elements of oak used so as to preserve the quality of the Chardonnay fruit	£80.00
2006/7	Puligny-Montrachet 'Vieilles Vignes', Truffiere, Burgundy, France A really great value example from this legendary region. Relatively young but drinking very well indeed	£85.00
2002/4	Leeuwin Estate Art Series Chardonnay, Margaret River, Australia Western Australian whites are mostly well balanced and poised due to the cooling influence of the Indian Ocean. This is complex and elegant with fruit so ripe that the wine copes easily with the oak aging. Leeuwin are particularly well known for their Art Series labels	£100.00
2004	Chassagne Montrachet, 1er Cru les Chenevottes, Burgundy, France An excellent example of white Burgundy showing the elegance and balance of concentrated fruit and oak which singles this area out as the premier producer of Chardonnay in the world. Chassagne is often thought of as a junior partner to its neighbours Puligny and Meursault - this wine from the up and coming negotiant Vincent Girardin would give the lie to this	£155.00

2001 Beaune Blanc Clos des Mouches, Joseph Drouhin, Burgundy, France £165.00
 The vineyard of Clos des Mouches lies at the southern end of the Beaune vineyard just before one reaches the Autun road. Across this road is Pommard. This is the epitome of great Chardonnay, beautifully made, carefully oaked and quite sensational

2000 Batard Montrachet, Morey, Burgundy, France £195.00
 Batard Montrachet along with its near neighbours Chevalier, Criots and Bienvenues produce the most expressive of the great white Burgundies. With wine this good you definitely get what you pay for

WHITE WINE
 Half Bottles

2004	Meursault, Joseph Drouhin, Burgundy, France	£30.50
	Immensely enjoyable Meursault from a very consistent negociant. Joseph Drouhin produce wines of immense quality at very reasonable prices

2004 Chablis 1er Cru "Montmain", Burgundy, France £34.65
 A golden yellow coloured Chardonnay brimming with mineral richness. Aromas of white flowers, white pepper and talc abound with citrus and mineral flavours offering very good intensity and a firm finish

ROSE WINE

2008 Bergerie De La Bastide Rose, Vin De Pays, France £20.00

These wines illustrate amply that the Languedoc is where the mustard is being cut. This Rose is Grenache based, dry with little spice

2008 Cabernet Sauvignon Syrah Rose, Vina Morande, Central Valley, Chile £22.50

A classic New World rose. Full of fruit and red fruit flavours this is on the dry side but very refreshing

2008 Pinot Grigio Rosato Rosa Bianca, Veneto I.G.T, Italy £28.50

This wine has an elegant rose colour and an ample fruity bouquet. The palate is dry, soft and well balanced

2008 Cotes de Provence Rose, Domaine Gavoty, Provence, France £36.00

A really good wine from the south of France. This is fantastic example of what makes this particular wine region famous

2007 Sancerre Rose Reverdy, Loire, France £48.50

It is difficult to find really serious rose Sancerre, much is cynically made to exploit the new great demand for pink wine. Sancerre Rose is made from the Pinot Noir so it should smell and taste of raspberries and cherries. This does, plenty of fruit and very good style. Goes with more or less anything

RED WINE

2008 Alpha Zeta Corvina, Veneto, Italy £18.50

The Corvina, spicy and supple, is a revelation. It has benefited from the production of the Rosato, as the bleeding of a proportion of the must increased the ratio of solids to liquids, giving a wine with deeper colour and a more impressive structure

2008 Merlot, St Bernard, Languedoc, France £20.00

A great easy drinking wine that has all of the softness that a merlot should have

2007/8 Old Vine Garnacha, Principe de Viana, Navarra, Spain, 2007/8 £23.50

Offering great value for money this wine shows the flavours and characteristics of a much older and more expensive wine

2008 La Vigneay Merlot Reserve, Vin De Pays DOC, France £24.50

An excellent example of a subtle merlot. Very lightly oaked giving great blackberry, black cherry and rum and raisin flavours

2007 Malbec Altos Las Hormigas, Mendoza, Argentina £26.00

Altos Las Hormigas only produce Malbec and have in a short space of time built a reputation as one of Mendoza's top producers of this variety. The wine has a fabulously intense colour, floral nose with wild violets and spice that is nicely balanced by a firmness on the finish

2006/7 Malbec, Valle Perdido, Patagonia, Argentina £27.00

This is the grape that has made Argentina famous for its wines and is celebrated throughout the wine world. Beautiful and full bodied this offers exceptional quality! You cannot fail to enjoy and be impressed by it. Particularly good with steak and meat!

2008 Valpolicella Allegrini, Veneto, Italy £29.00

A light and delicate grape gives subtle favours to this very drinkable wine from the north of Italy. Soft and rounded red fruit flavours with soft vanilla coming through...a great crowd pleaser!

2006 Porcupine Ridge Syrah, South Africa £31.50

Dark red-black colour with concentrated aromas and flavours of ripe Blackberry, Plum and Blackcurrant. Silky smooth with nice tannic structure

2006	Shiraz Omrah, Western Australia	£34.00
	Known as Syrah throughout the old world this grape has come to optimize Australian reds. Full bodied and spicy this really is a fantastic wine

2006	Pinot Noir Vintners Reserve, Kendall-Jackson, California, USA	£36.50
	"Black cherry fruit with velvety tannins typically found in hillside grapes along the North Coast combine with flavors of blackberry jam and currant from Monterey County. Oak aging adds hints of vanilla, cola and a soft, smoky finish." – Randy Ullom, Wine Master .

2005	Catena Cabernet Sauvignon, Mendoza, Argentina	£39.50
	The Catena family have been growing wine in Argentina for over 100 years. Their knowledge and experience of the grapes and their land shows through in this very fine wine that really highlights all the qualities of the grape. Full-bodied with good chunky tannins that go down well with a rich hearty meal. You can tell these wines have seen oak by the toasty, vanilla aromas as opposed to full-on fruit

2005	Rioja Reserva, Cune, Rioja, Spain	£40.00
	This area produces wines with a great capacity for ageing and is therefore excellent for the production of great wines. Quality has been achieved by careful viticulture using traditional techniques like harvesting by hand and avoiding the use of pesticides and other chemicals. This is royalty in the wine world and is an absolutely delightful wine. Showing good age this offers fantastic drinking and excellent value. This wine will not disappoint

2007	Pinot Noir, Hunter's, Marlborough, New Zealand	£45.00
	As New Zealand whites have become synonymous with Sauvignon Blanc the reds have found fame through Pinot Noir. By drinking this wine you can easily see why! A truly great example of this grape highlighting its complexities and flavours

2001	Jean Leon Cabernet/Sauvignon, Penedes, Spain	£55.00
	Jean Leon's flagship wine. Made from 100% Cabernet Sauvignon, this has a definite 'old world' style to it. Lovely restrained blackcurrent Cabernet fruit but with plenty of backbone and acidity to give the wine interest and balance

2006	Masi Corbec, 'Appassimento' Tupungato, Mendoza, Argentina	£60.00
	Masi are most famously known for making Valpolicella, Amarone and Soave in Veneto, Italy. Here, in their operation in the Tupungato they employ their wine making experience and skills to great effect, producing wines of fine concentration, yet with elegance
2004	Chateau Potensac, Cru Bourgeois Exceptionnel, Medoc, Bordeaux, France	£62.50
	No wine list would be complete without a fine Bordeaux and this delivers on every level. Drinking wonderfully now and showing some nice age this is a majestic wine that will easily impress your guests
2003	Jumilla Petit Verdot, Crianza, Casa de la Ermita, Spain	£65.00
	Produced in Pago de El Carche, one of the most southerly vineyards in Europe. This wine is aged for 12 months in both American and French new oak barrels. Made from 100% Petit Verdot, it is deep, smooth and balanced, making it the perfect partner for red meats
NV	Valdivieso Caballo Loco Number 9, Chile	£67.50
	This wine has always been a winner. Made as a blend from the best vats in the winery the composition and therefore taste changes each time it is made. Valdivieso was founded in 1879 and is one of the very best sources of top end Chilean wine. The Caballo is their top wine and it shows
2005	'Nine Popes' Shiraz/Granache, Charles Melton, Barossa, Australia	£69.00
	Australia's version of Chateaufeuf du Pape and every bit as good as its inspiration. This is a great wine from a fantastic producer. Excellent black fruit and herb flavours combine with a wonderful mouth feel
2003	Cote-Rotie, Bernard Guy, Rhone, France	£75.00
	The region differs from the other heavy weight wines of the Rhone as it is primarily made just of the Syrah grape. This gives wonderfully balanced black cherry and liquorice flavours.
2005	Lytton Spring Zinfandel, Ridge, California, USA	£82.50
	Produced by Ridge Wines of California this is a truly great Zinfandel (with a very small blend of Petite Syrah and Carignane). 2004 was a unique season with the grapes peaking and being picked much earlier than usual which has led to an excellent wine

2005	Catena Alta Malbec, Mendoza, Argentina	£85.00
	Malbec being the grape of Argentina and this wine is arguably the very best example of it. A stunning wine that is drinking wonderfully now
2006	Ata Rangi Pinot Noir, Martinborough, New Zealand	£95.00
	Ata Rangi has won numerous awards for their pinots over the last decade. They have been making sensational Pinots in Martinborough since before the fashion switched to the Central Otago. This wine is very different from the heavy, jammy wines that are emanating from there. It is certainly one of the great Pinots of New Zealand and thus of the New World generally
2005	Erazuriz Vinedo Chadwick Cabernet/Merlot, Maipo Valley, Chile	£125.00
	A rare chance to try this very fine and very Bordelaise style red, named after one of the founders of this well-known winery; cedary, powerful and spicy
1996	Flor de Pingus, Ribera del Duero, Spain	£195.00
	One of the great names, if not the greatest in Spanish wine. Full bodied and rich this is a truly fantastic wine. Parker gave this a 97 rating stating that it was spectacular and we agree
2004	Tignanello, Antinori, Tuscany, Italy	£225.00
	This wine is often referred to as 'Super-Tuscans.' Tignanello is produced in the heart of the Chianti district, using French techniques and a mixture of Cabernet Sauvignon and Sangiovese grapes. It was developed by the aristocratic Antinori family, whose roots in the Chianti district go back 600 years, and whose labels proudly boast of '26 Generations.'
1996	Penfold's Grange Hermitage, South Australia	£375.00
	Without question Australia's finest red wine. Grange is a legend, begun by Penfold's wine maker Max Schubert in 1955 its reputation and price have grown exponentially since. The 1996 was a particularly great vintage in the Barossa. It is a huge, concentrated and complex beast which will last for decades
1997	Grands Echezeaux, Domain de la Romanee Conti, Burgundy, France	£550.00
	The Domaine de la Romanee Conti is in Vosne Romanee, arguably the leading place in red burgundy wines. These wines are long lived, ultimately pure in fruit and the most concentrated and complex of all Burgundian Domaines.
